

40th City Council District

John Grant (D)

I'm John Grant. It's time to bring about effective change.

Too many of our children are not reaching their academic potential. Parents can't afford to feed their children healthy affordable meals.

Rent Income levels have reached to where people can't afford to stay in their home, and senior citizens should not have to struggle with deciding whether to pay their rent, buy medication or food.

The city should not ride off the backs of those who have already paved the way.

Senior citizens should be at the point in their lives where they may live comfortably.

Also we need more vocational schools for those who wish to focus on a special trade.

In addition, we need more recreational centers to keep our children off the streets and build their self-esteem. Programs such as music, sports, art, dance, etc., will build our children's minds, body and soul.

The old African saying is "It takes a village to raise a child." Well, let's really work together as a unified people to bring about real effective and positive change for our community.
